About Campbell River

Location

The gateway to Northern Vancouver Island, Campbell River has evolved into a major service centre for the northern half of Vancouver Island. Extending for over 24 kilometers along the waterfront of Discovery Passage, Campbell River lies within the Strathcona Regional District and has unparalleled views east to the mainland. Its unique location enables you to ski, golf and fish in one day, all within a 35 minute drive.

Visionary planning by successive municipal councils have transformed the downtown core through many years of revitalization projects. This includes attractive shops and boutiques highlighted by brick walkways, lighted street lamps and tree-lined streets.

A young city with a young population, a full 63% of Campbell River's residents are under the age of 45, while 30% of the workforce is between 25 and 45 years of age. With a diverse economy, a youthful and growing population and a uniquely West Coast lifestyle, Campbell River is poised for a period of extended growth.

The City of Campbell River is located on the 50th parallel on the east coast of Vancouver Island, midway between Victoria (264 km to the south) and Cape Scott to the North. The boundaries encompass an area of 33,955 acres with 22.5 km of waterfront facing Discovery Passage.

Unique Places

Big Rock

A First Nations legend shared through the generations explains that in the early days many grizzly and black bears on the mainland eyed Vancouver Island longingly, but it was too far to swim. A Great Spirit announced that if the bears could jump in one mighty leap, they might stay and live there.

However, they musn't get as much as one claw wet, for they would turn to stone. Many bears tried and failed, and the boulders strewn along the water's edge of Vancouver Island attest to. It is said that the mountains and valleys on the mainland were created by the bears digging in for a run at the Island.

One day after watching many of his black bear relatives make the jump; a king-sized grizzly boasted that he could jump the distance too. The Great Spirit warned him what would happen if he failed. He went miles back into the mainland to get a mighty leap. But, alas the tide was in. He landed on the beach with his feet in the water and was instantly turned to stone. And there he stands today as the Big Rock.

Discovery Pier

Discovery Pier was built in Campbell River in 1987. It was Canada's first salt water fishing pier, extends 150 feet from shore and is 600 feet long. The Pier's hut serves fabulous snacks from fish & chips to ice cream seasonally starting May 1st.

Torii Gate

To celebrate 10 years of twinning with our sister city, Ishikari, Japan, Campbell River was presented with a Torii Gate. A Shinto tradition in Japan, the gate represents recognition of a special location or place.

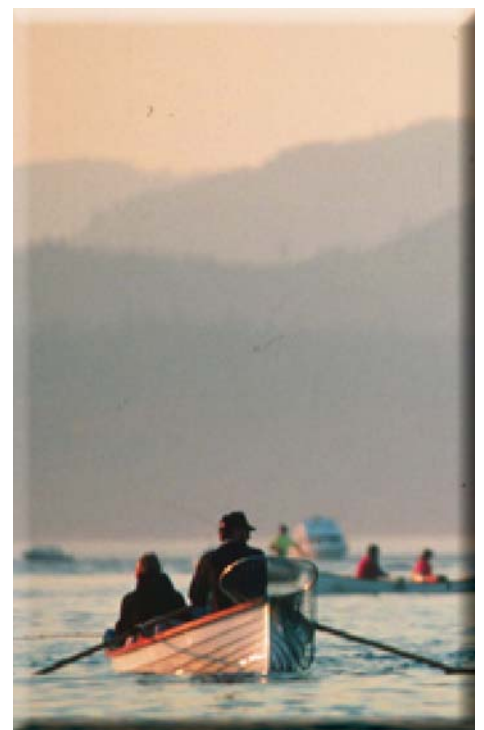

The gate is located in Sequoia Park across from the Museum at Campbell River. Campbell River's gift to Ishikari was a totem pole carved by renowned artist Bill Henderson.

Tyee Club of BC

The Tyee Club of BC began in 1924 with a group of anglers who returned to Campbell River each year in pursuit of the elusive "Tyee" - a coastal Indian word meaning, "the chief", a Chinook salmon, 30 pounds or larger.

Tyee fishing here is different in our community. Fishing is done quietly in small, classic row boat. No motors are allowed in the Tyee pool. The rower will slip the boat into the currents and eddies of the pool, keeping a basic plug or spoon beating in the current. The angler must stay focused on the action of the lure as it is felt in the hand as much as being seen by the beating of the rod tip. With the slightest change in the beat, the hook must be set, fast and hard. The battle with a Pacific Chinook Salmon is on - anything can happen! If the fish is boated, and weighs 30 pounds or more, the catch is recorded and the angler becomes a member of the Tyee Club!
